Cut a neck curve of approx. 3" from edge (shown in gray, but make a nice non-pixelated curve, about 2" deep) 2. Stitch 10" sides together to form hood. 3. Stitch 20" sides together to form back seam. 4. Stitch 11" sides of sleeves together to form a tube. 5. Sew sleeves into 7" cut s 6. Open center back seam (step 3) and align center back seam with hood back seam (step 2). You will open that 4" slit in the process. 7. While pinning, take a 2" tuck in the hood at the center back. 8. Stitch across shoulder seam. 9. Finish raw edges with double-turned hem (1" allowed in pattern).
NOTES: 1" seam allowances, for French seaming. It is a bit on the short side, designed for little legs that need to run as well as to fit on a single piece of 60" fabric. You'll only need to buy 2/3 yd. that way (unless your fabric is directional like mine)
